WHY CHANGE YOUR WIFE?
A Paramount Picture

"Here's to those who love us
If we only cared.
Here's to those whom we'd love
If we only—dared."

AT THE MOVIES

A musician; a barefoot girl of the Cumberland; a blind girl who regains her sight—certainly the last three productions of Mary Miles Minter have shown her to be truly versatile. She was a violinist in "Jenny Be Good," while "A Cumberland Romance" gave her a role of elemental emotions that proved one of the most successful of the many Minter triumphs. And now in "Eyes of the Heart" which comes to the local theatres Friday, the star has an entirely different kind of role. As Laura, a blind girl, who regains her sight, Miss Minter undoubtedly does some of the finest acting of her career. There is real drama in the disillusionment of the girl and her fight for final happiness. The story was adapted by Clara Kennedy from "Blindness," by Dana Burnett.

Love, high finance, romance, big business, politics, adventure—the scintillant splendor of New York's highest society intrigued with her mysterious, submerged, little-known Oriental underworld, —are the elements that build Ben B. Hampton's powerful photodrama, "The Money-Changers," to be shown at the local theatres on Monday.

Gowns that for beauty and style outrival anything ever seen on the screen are a feature of Cecil B. DeMille's latest screen masterpiece, "Why Change Your Wife?" Designed especially for this production by one of the world's premier designers, these costumes are the final word in fashion and sheer beauty.

Gloria Swanson and Bebe Daniels, who play the leading feminine roles, display wardrobes which run the full gamut of mid-lady's wardrobe. Gorgeous negligees, simple and dignified house dresses, and stunning evening gowns are displayed at every angle of the story.

You should not fail to see "Why Change Your Wife?" at the local theatres Tuesday and Wednesday, March 29 and 30.

SCANDAL AMONG N. Y. MILLIONAIRES

(By Associated Press)
White Plains, N. Y., March 23.—A definite charge that Mrs. Anne V. Stillman, wife of James A. Stillman, president of the National City Bank, of New York, was the mother of a child by an Indian guide, was made in the Supreme Court here today by counsel for Stillman during preliminary arguments in the divorce suit that Stillman brought.

Addressing Justice Morschauer, who presided at the hearing on alimony and counsel fees, Delaney Nicholl, chief counsel for Stillman, said: "The evidence already before you shows that Mrs. Stillman must either acknowledge as member of his family or repudiate him as illegitimate. This criminal intimacy began in 1916, and continued through 1919 Stillman feels it his duty to his father's memory, to his family and to his children to press this matter to a conclusion."

Abraham Levy, counsel for Mrs. Stillman asserted when the case is tried Mrs. Stillman "will prove denial of all allegations as to her infidelity." The court room was crowded during the short hearing, at the end of which the court reserved decision on a motion for $10,000 alimony and $25,000 for Mrs. Stillman's counsel fees.

The Stillman family is one of the most prominent socially in America and counts its wealth by millions. He is a son of the late Judge Stillman, who left $40,000,000 to be divided among five heirs. She is a daughter of Jas. Brown Potter, of New Orleans, and Cora Crumhart Potter, whose divorce took place in 1900 after she went on the stage. The Stillman wedding in June, 1901, was a gala event of the social season.

HAD NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Mrs. Ireland Permits us to Publish this Letter for the Benefit of Others Who Are in Her Condition

(Warsaw, Missouri).—"For five years I was really nervous and in a run-down condition. Then I had a nervous breakdown and doctors said I would never be well again. After I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was healthier, stronger, and felt better than I ever did in my life before. I can't praise the Compound enough and will recommend it to all women. You may publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. FLORENCE IRVING, R. R. 1, Warsaw, Missouri.

Nervous women are both ailing and wretched, and with a nervous breakdown all joy goes out of a woman's life. It is said that the ill-temperamental women act on the nerves like a firebrand.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming such conditions, a large number of American women who were once great sufferers from nerve troubles owe their present health and comfort to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about your health.
